YOUR RESPONSE IS NEEDED

A letter describing the compilation of an up-to-date publications list to be used in the Middle States Association evaluation process was distributed to all faculty and staff in February. To date, only 60 people have responded to Jeanne Conway in the Library. The first draft of this list must be completed by the end of June. Please submit your publications list by May 13. A supply of 3x5 cards have been provided in the Hall Memorial Building mailroom for your convenience.

THE FATE OF THE CAPTIONED EVENING NEWS

The Captioned ABC Evening News with Harry Reasoner which had been moved from its 11 p.m. time slot to midnight has most recently been taken off the air by WETA-TV entirely.

Representatives from the National Association of the Deaf, Deaf Pride, Alexander Graham Bell Association, the Community Service Center for the Hearing Impaired and the National Center for Law and the Deaf have met with the management of WETA-TV to press their demands that the program be restored to its original time slot.

According to WETA personnel, the program time was changed because there did not seem to be a significant viewing audience. It has been explained to WETA that traditional survey methods used to determine the audience which uses telephone canvassing are not appropriate when dealing with deaf viewers.

The National Center for Law and the Deaf has distributed 2000 mailed questionnaires to the deaf community.

Response to the first 500 has revealed that only a tiny percentage of the deaf community was watching the news at midnight but that an overwhelming number would watch the show at 11 p.m.

Based on these results, WETA removed the program; but a decision will be made in the next few weeks about whether or not to restore the show to its original 11 p.m. hour. Since numbers of responses are very important, please contact WETA about your interest in having the program shown at 11 p.m.

NTD AT LOCAL SCHOOLS

The Little Theatre of the Deaf is giving performances at six District of Columbia schools this week. The troupe will also be performing to a sell-out crowd at the Kennedy Center's Eisenhower Theatre as part of a gala theatre evening sponsored by the President's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped.

The school performances are a gift to the city's school children from the O'Neil Center, the President's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped and the Bureau of Education for the Handicapped. Following their week in Washington, the Little Theatre of the Deaf will travel to Canada, Norway, Sweden and Denmark.

STUDENT ART SHOW

An exhibit of student art work is currently on display in the Washburn Art Center. Many Gallaudet students have contributed works in a variety of media to the show.

AMONG OURSELVES

--Earlier this month, Edward C. Merrill, Jr. participated in the University of Tennessee's lecture series, "Spotlight on Deafness." The topic of his speech was "Higher Education for Deaf People." Don Pettingill will be a program participant during the month of June when he will speak on "Deafness is a Strange Handicap."

--John Cowan, Bob Mehan and Allen Sussman recently made a presentation at The American Personnel and Guidance Association Convention in Chicago entitled, "Counselors! Are You Bumping Into Deaf Kids and Wondering What to Do?"

MAKING WASHINGTON ACCESSIBLE
